ACCEPTANCE

Parent or Guardian: As the parent or guardian of this student, I have read this Internet and E-mail Acceptable Use Agreement. I understand that this access is designed for educational purposes and that Divine Redeemer Catholic School has taken precautions to limit access to controversial material. However, I recognize it is impossible for Divine Redeemer School to guarantee information access or accuracy, or to restrict access to all materials, which might deem controversial. I will not hold the School responsible for materials acquired on the network. Further, I accept responsibility for supervision if and when my child's use is not in a school setting. I hereby give permission for my child to use a school account for independent navigation and certify that the information contained on this form is correct.

I understand that teachers or media specialists who are exploring World Wide Web sites with a group of students do not need special permission for that activity if the faculty member is in control of the navigation to known educational sites. A student who is navigating the Net at the constant direction of the faculty member is not "independently" navigating the Net. This circumstance does not require special parental permission.
